APD Seeks Bilingual (Spanish/English) Volunteers

The Austin Police Department is seeking bilingual (Spanish/English) volunteers to become communication facilitators. Persons who volunteer will be trained as a resource for on-duty APD officers. They will help in bridging the gap with the Spanish-speaking community and will facilitate communication in all types of calls.

APD is continually looking for volunteers. If this is a program that you are interested in or if you would like more information, please contact Patricia Urdiales at 512-974-4461 or e-mail patricia.urdiales@ci.austin.tx.us

Media advisory: APD's Office of Community Liaison will be conducting a communications facilitator training on Saturday, September 11, 2010 at 10 a.m. at APD headquarters. Coordinators, current Communication Facilitators and citizens will be available for interview.
